

Aspen Go

Aspen Go is a mobile-friendly application that allows parents, guardians, and students to monitor academic progress anytime, anywhere—directly from a smartphone or tablet. It offers two distinct views: a Family view for parents and guardians, and a Student view for enrolled students. Both views provide quick access to schedules, grades, attendance, and school announcements.

Note: The Aspen Go interface automatically adjusts to fit your device’s screen size, whether you’re using a phone, tablet, or browser window. Your display may look slightly different from the screenshots shown in this guide.

Student view:

In the Student view, the My Schedule screen displays your classes for today. Swipe left or right to navigate to yesterday’s or tomorrow’s schedule. Tap any class name to view details such as assignments, grades, and teacher information. Use the menu icon  in the bottom right corner to explore other sections, including attendance, grades, and notifications.
